

Community Seed-to-Plate Workshops

The University of California, Irvine is hosting community seed-to-plate workshops on practical living skills such as seed saving, gardening basics, preserving, and fermentation as well as more in-depth training in sustainable food systems and cultures.

June 27
10:00 am

Introduction to Gardening
Arroyo Vista Community Garden,
UC Irvine

July 9
11:00 am

All About Seeds: Harvest, store, germinate, trade, & eat!
Anthill Village Community Garden,
UC Irvine

July 23
11:00 am

Food Stories:
Explore our current food system through storytelling
Aldrich Park, UC Irvine

July
25
10:00 am

Gardening Tools
Verano Place Community Garden,
UC Irvine

July 27
11:00 am

Evolving Systems:
Learn about aquaponics and how to find native edible plants
Arboretum, UC Irvine

August 13
11:00 am

Real vs. Processed:
Investigate the backstory of the foods we eat
Anteater Recreation Center, UC Irvine

August 15
10:00 am

Soil Fertility Management
Anthill Village Community Garden,
UC Irvine

August
20
11:00 am

Follow the Route: From Seed to Plate
Local Farm Tour

August 27
11:00 am

Preserving and Fermentation
Anteater Recreation Center,
UC Irvine

August
29
9:00 am

Permaculture:
Native Food Forest
Arboretum, UC Irvine

August
29
&
30
12:00 pm

Food Equity
(two-day event)
Procure and create the same dish several ways
Arboretum, UC Irvine

Sept
5
10:00 am

Plant Propagation
Palo Verde Community Garden,
UC Irvine

Sept
16
11:00 am

Social Diversity:
Make traditional meal with local food justice leaders
Anteater Recreation Center,
UC Irvine

RSVP to reserve your spot!

FOR THE MOST UP TO DATE INFORMATION,
CHECK OUT OUR INTERACTIVE CALENDAR.

sustainability.uci.edu/seed-to-plate

UCI Sustainability
Initiative